FEM HEALTH & SAFETY MENTORSHIP PROGRAMME

FEM invites all small, medium, and micro-sized companies in construction to apply for a health and safety mentorship programme. This can be a valuable opportunity for companies looking to empower themselves with skills to improve and implement their health and safety plans and files, conduct risk assessments, and apply them to improve general health and safety practices on construction sites.

The programme will be facilitated by FEM's grant recipients in their respective regions (Gauteng, Kwa Zulu Natal, Western Cape, Eastern Cape and Free State). Participating companies will have first-hand experience with experts in the health and safety field.

The applicant criteria:

- Participating company to be a registered and active construction company.
- Participating members must be a company owner or persons responsible for implementing health and safety in the organization.
- Have access to digital resources for all possible online interactions.

Duration: The FEM Health and Safety Mentorship programme will run over the course of 4 weeks. The mentorship uptake will be as soon as applications are submitted

FEM is intentional about promoting exceptional health and safety practices in the construction industry and in turn, see a reduction of the fatalities and disabling injuries experienced on South African construction sites.
